Whole School Information

Today's parent workshop

Thank you to all the parents who attended today's workshop: How do children learn through play? and found out more about play-based learning. Please click here to read the slides and see what was covered. The final slide includes a QR code to access further reading.

School Council update

On Wednesday evening, at the School Council meeting, the parent members who completed their term handed over the reins to the three new parents and voted on the new chair and second chair. The newly-minted chairperson is Jenneke Bleeker van Weel and second chair is Olga Koroleva. You can learn more about all members of our School Council here on our website.

Using Toddle for classroom messages

Some parents may have noticed that if they have more than one child, they need to select each child in turn to see specific announcements for their class. Please refer to the graphic to see how to do this in order to ensure no messages get missed!

Kijkavond

In the last newsletter, we outlined this favourite Dutch tradition that will take place at school on Monday 4 December.

- The school will reopen between 16:00-17:00.
- Both locations will be ready for students to bring their families to look around and see their classrooms decorated and lit up for Sint. At Mondrian, the classrooms are set up to display the surprises students make for their friends.
- Hot chocolate and speculaas will be served, courtesy of the PSG!
